his former arch-rival, Virgin Blue founder Brett Godfrey, is also now on the TA board effective 01 Jul.

The reshuffle has also seen former Voyages chief and current Anthology boss Grant Hunt leave the board, along with tourism and events expert Peter O'Brien.

Hunt, O'Brien and Allert were all appointed to the board by the former coalition government.

Tourism WA chair Kate Lamont has been named as deputy chair of Tourism Australia, and the other new appointees are Mark Stone, ceo of Parks Victoria, and technology expert Didier Elzinga.

Elzinga was formerly ceo of Rising Sun Pictures and oversaw digital effects for movies such as the Lord of the Rings trilogy.

BA traffic dives

THE waves of cabin crew industrial action at British Airways last month significantly affected the carrier's operations, with traffic down 11.1%.

The overall load factor was down 2.1 points to 77.5%, with the decline including a 9.2% decrease in premium traffic and an 11.4% drop in non-premium.

The carrier said that while yields over the Apr-Jun quarter had improved, they had "not fully offset the impact of lower volumes" due to the strikes and the Iceland volcano impact.

May arrivals dip slightly

SHORT term visitor arrivals into Australia during May trended down 0.2% during the month - while departures continued their ongoing strength, up 0.6%.

The dip in arrivals continues a trend of small declines in Mar and Apr - but trend estimates for inbound tourism are still up 3.9% on May 2009.

Compared to Apr, arrivals fell from NZ, the US, UK, India and

Hong Kong, with increases in visitor numbers from China, Japan and Korea during the month.

Departures dipped by 0.5% to New Zealand compared to Apr, but outbound figures were higher to the USA (up 1.8%), Indonesia (1.3%), the UK (0.5%), Fiji (2.1%), Singapore (1%) and Malaysia (1%).

Year-on-year travel to the USA is up 15.5%, while the number of Aussies travelling to Indonesia is up a huge 40.3%.

New Walshe cfo

THE parent company of The Walshe Group has appointed a new Chief Financial Officer.

NZ-listed Southern Travel yesterday told the stock market that Saamil Kapadia had been named as cfo and company secretary effective immediately.

Kapadia has worked in a number of listed companies including Auckland International Airport Limited, with Southern Travel saying he had "taken an active interest in the New Zealand tourism market for several years" as well as being a shareholder in Southern Travel since 2007.

Jacqui Walshe, who this week celebrates her tenth anniversary in Australia, is the chief executive officer of Southern Travel.

Window Seat

HOW about this for a new island destination?

Dutch scientists have announced a plan to create Recycled Island from 44,000 tonnes of plastic waste which is currently floating in the Pacific Ocean.

The ambitious project aims to construct a sustainable habitat from the recycled waste, with the island - about the size of Oahu in Hawaii - postulated to be able to support a population of 500,000 people.

AND while we're on the subject of wacky tourism ideas, speakers at this week's Tourism Futures conference have also come up with some doozies.

Nick Talbot, from UK-based 'innovation company' seymourpowell, suggested that by 2025 travellers could travel between Australia and London in massive "air hotel" blimps, with a sky-cruise taking about a week to travel across the globe.

"It would be a lucky few that could afford to do it but it would be a completely mind-blowing experience," he said.

A RUSSIAN businessman is set to take home a unique souvenir of the FIFA World Cup - he's paid about $50,000 to have one of the tournament's ubiquitous noisy plastic vuvuzela trumpets covered in white gold.

The special vuvuzela was created by Austrian jeweller Klemens Pointner, who also included a once carat diamond on the special vuvuzela.

It was a rush job, because the businessman wants to play it during the final next week.

The jeweller said the finished product has "a really great sound - it reminds me of the sirens they had during the war".

Breakaway adds 9

BREAKAWAY Travel Franchise Group has added nine new members recently, after an email blast to agencies positioning itself as 'Australia's only truly independent privately owned' travel network (TD 24 May)

The new agencies include SEA Travel in Ringwood North; Golf Tourism Australia, Mount Eliza; Globe Travel, Melbourne; Aura Travel, Preston; Golden Flights Travel Service, Footscray; Planet Tours, Parramatta; and One World Travel, Bentleigh East.

Also joining Breakaway is former Travelscene Amex member Jetglobe Travel in Merrylands, which also previously represented Viva Macau Airlines in Australia.

Strategic BNE-DPS

STRATEGIC Airlines yesterday announced that its new Port Hedland-Denpasar services would also connect through to Brisbane (TD breaking news) from 03 Aug.

The carrier says it's the first Australian-owned airline to provide full service flights on the route, "directly connecting the people of Brisbane and Port Hedland with a much sought-after holiday destination".

The new services, flagged last month (TD 15 Jun) will operate each Tue, using an A320 with 12 business class and 144 economy seats "giving Brisbane leisure travellers their first opportunity to fly business class to Bali."

Strategic head of commercial, Damien Vasta, said the move also made holiday travel much easier for Port Hedland residents, who until now had to fly to Perth before they could continue onto anywhere else.

"There has been overwhelming demand from people in Port Hedland - particularly from its Fly In Fly Out mining community - for leisure travel to Bali," he said.

The service is expected to expand to twice weekly from Sep.

AFTA UPDATE

the latest insights from AFTA's Chief Executive, Jayson Westbury

As I write this week's column I can hardly believe what I am saying.

This Saturday is the AFTA National Travel Industry Awards for 2010. It really does not feel like 12 months has passed since the last big night at the Westin. Facts are, 12 months have absolutely shot by and we are on the eve of another really big event on Saturday night 10th July.

All the winners are now locked in, the speeches are ready, presentations prepared, entertainment rehearsed and the chefs at the Westin are taking delivery of wonderful food and beverages.

This year we will have 950 industry professionals in the room. We are at absolute capacity and this once again demonstrates just how important this night has become to the travel industry.

Qantas continues to provide outstanding support to AFTA and the industry by way of the major sponsorship of the NTIA and this year is no exception.

Qantas has pulled out all the stops to help make this year's event bigger, more exciting and very special. I am sure all attending will enjoy the evening immensely.

The event sold out quickly and some industry friends have not been able to get access and I am sorry about this. You will of course be able to read all about the big night in Travel Daily next week and there will be loads of great photos posted after the event.

Also this year with the support of Singapore Airlines we will be holding the "First" AFTA after-party which will follow the Gala Presentation. Not everyone has been able to get tickets to the party, but those that have are in for another outstanding event.

There is a real buzz going on about the after party and I am sure it will be a great way for many to celebrate well into the small hours of the morning.

So the stage is set for a very big evening for everyone this Saturday night.

I wish the finalists all the best of luck and look forward to seeing those attending.

AZ signs into AF-KLM/DL pact

THE joint venture on trans-Atlantic routes between Air France-KLM and Delta Air Lines has been boosted after Alitalia (AZ) yesterday announced it had joined the agreement.

The move, as previously flagged by Travel Daily (TD 24 Jun), sees Rome added as a core hub under the pact (joining Amsterdam, Detroit, Atlanta, New York JFK, Paris CDG and Minneapolis).

The multi-carrier pact launched last year, and allows member airlines to coordinate services flying across the Atlantic, while sharing costs and revenues.

"The addition of Alitalia to our joint venture will further bolster our ability to optimise resources, protect revenues and provide more benefits for our employees and shareholders," said Delta ceo Richard Anderson.

Geographically, the alliance covers all flights between North America - Europe, between Amsterdam - India and between North America - Tahiti.

With AZ, the four-carrier JV accounts for about 26% of total trans-Atlantic capacity.

Alitalia's addition to the JV is effective 01 Apr 2010 through to at least 31 Mar 2022.

The combined expanded joint venture now accounts for around 250 daily trans-Atlantic flights to 500 destinations in Europe and North America.

AZ, AF-KLM & DL are all members of the SkyTeam alliance.

Cable Beach tops

CABLE Beach Club Resort and Spa has awarded Rebekah Lloyd of Qantas Holidays four nights accommodation at the resort, after she was the top seller of room nights during the Apr-May period.

Delhi T3 opened

THE new Terminal 3 at Delhi's Indira Gandhi Airport officially opened over the weekend, with capacity for up to 34m passengers annually, with 78 aerobridges, 168 check in counters and 92 automatic walkways.

Machu Train open

THE rail service between Cusco and Machu Picchu in Peru began full operations late last week after months of repair following the heavy rains which cut off the site earlier this year.

Pilot error blamed

A FRENCH investigation into the crash of a leased Air New Zealand A320 in France 2008 (TD 28 Nov 08) that left 7 people dead including a number of Air New Zealand crew members has cited pilot error for the incident, saying the crew tried to perform a low-speed test in "inappropriate conditions" and at too low an altitude off the coast of France which resulted in the plane ditching into the ocean.

Air New Zealand didn't comment on the interim report into the accident because of a French confidentiality agreement.
