AFTA awaiting TCF report

THE final report from the Travel Compensation Fund is being keenly awaited by the industry, with AFTA ceo Jayson Westbury confirming he has been assured it will be released "shortly".

The TCF, which began to be phased out more than two years ago now, ceased operations effective 31 Dec 2015, with the final report expected to detail the distribution of moneys which remained in the fund.

Speaking to Travel Daily during the AFTA annual general meeting this morning, Westbury said the Federation was looking forward to the final report, adding it was unclear why it had not yet been formally tabled.

"AFTA is still pursuing the TCF report and we look forward to its pending release," he said.

MEANWHILE the AFTA agm at the Federation's office this morning (see page 3) was uneventful, with attendees working through the agenda in about six minutes, including receiving and adopting the Annual Report and Financial Statements for the year to 31 Mar.

The meeting also formally declared the election of seven directors to the board (TD 21 Jun), including Helloworld ceo Andrew Burnes, along with Mike Thompson and Julie Primmer of Helloworld; Flight Centre's Graham Turner and David Smith; Andrew Macfarlane from Magellan Group; and Consolidated Travel chief Spiros Alysandratos.

Road tripping revival

THE caravanning industry has proclaimed the latest Tourism Australia Research data that forecasts domestic tourism will ratchet up 3.1% per annum over the next ten years (TD Wed) will be a boon for the sector.

"We are witnessing a new and robust era in domestic tourism that has the potential to introduce new consumers to the caravan and camping experience," ceo Stuart Lamont said today.

Terror chaos in France

UP TO 77 have been killed and 65 injured after a truck mowed down two kilometres of crowds who were celebrating Bastille Day along the Promenade des Anglais in the French city of Nice.

The incident which occurred around 11pm local time during a fireworks display is being treated as a terrorist attack at this point.

Tour company Topdeck has confirmed an Australian guest on one of the firm's itineraries was hurt during the incident.

"As of 2.30am local time all of our customers are safe and accounted for," the company said in a statement.

"Unfortunately one of our customers has reported some minor injuries".

Topdeck's family liaison team has been in direct contact with the injured customer's relatives.

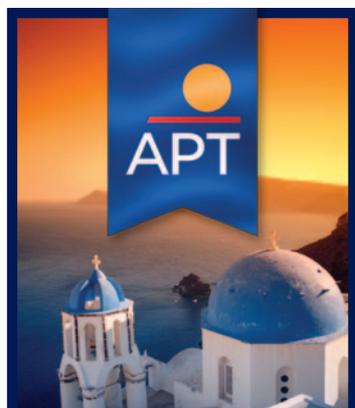

The Australian Dept of Foreign Affairs & Trade is advising Aussie travellers in France to exercise a high degree of caution and for tourists in Nice to stay indoors.

A state of emergency in France until 26 Jul has been extended by three months in the wake of the attack, the French govt said.

Atout France regional manager Australia Patrick Benamhou told Travel Daily: "The shocking news from Nice has again left us very saddened".

"Nice is a very popular city for Australian travellers.

"This is a tragic paradox that the subject of the attack was the people celebrating liberty, equality and fraternity on Bastille Day last night," Benamhou said.

TNZ Biz Events push

TOURISM New Zealand is on the hunt for a Business Events Bid Manager in Australia as NZ readies for bigger event spaces to come online.

The Sydney-based role will support TNZ's current Business Events Manager Australia.

TNZ manager business events and premium, Lisa Gardiner told TD Australia is a key market for the tourism group, with the new role enabling the Tourism New Zealand to become "more active".

"It's an exciting time for business events in New Zealand with new conference infrastructure on the way which will provide opportunities to be able to host larger scale conferences and events."

CZ A330s back to PER

CHINA Southern Airlines has revised operational aircraft on the Guangzhou-Perth route which will see Boeing 787 Dreamliners replaced by Airbus A330-200s.

According to GDS displays, CZ will revert to the Airbus wide-body jets on its four weekly service between 30 Oct & 25 Mar.

AFTA AGM held today

THE Australian Federation of Travel Agents (AFTA) held its annual general meeting today in Sydney, attended by industry leaders ahead of tomorrow's anticipated NTIA Awards.

and gm, American Express Global Business Travel; Mike Thompson, head of strategic partnerships, Helloworld; Andrew MacFarlane, ceo, Magellan; Julie Primmer, head of branded network, Helloworld; Melvyn Almeida, managing director, Consolidated Travel; Tom Manwaring, chief executive officer, Express Travel Group and Jayson Westbury, chief executive officer, AFTA.

Urinals on a plane?

AIRBUS is looking at the possibility of installing urinals on planes in a bid to optimise space and save passengers the time and hassle of having to queue in the aisles to use the toilet.

The company is currently in talks with key supplier Zodiac about the plans along with other new toilet designs including the potential installation of disabled bathrooms on planes.

Airbus said several carriers had expressed interest in the urinals.

Sheraton Bali opens

FOUR Points by Sheraton Bali, Seminyak has opened, marking the second Four Points hotel in the popular tourist hub.

Offering 93 rooms and 28 suites, the property is located 10 minutes from Seminyak city centre and was previously badged as the Vasanti Seminyak Resort.

It features three dining venues & 105 metres<sup>2</sup> of meeting space.

Window Seat

A WEDGE-tailed eagle thought a seven-year-old audience member looked like suitable prey during a wildlife show in Alice Springs at the Desert Park attraction last week.

The young boy was left with cuts on his face after the eagle swooped him and clutched its sharp talons around his head (captured below) instead of flying to a log as planned.

The offending bird has been suspended from the show while an investigation continues.

Desroches take-over

FOUR Seasons Hotels & Resorts has signed on to manage the Four Seasons Resort Seychelles at Desroches Island, set to re-open in 2017 after a refurbishment.

Quarter century of AccorHotels

ACCORHOTELS celebrated 25 years of operation in the Australian market last night, fittingly at the group's first hotel - Novotel Sydney Darling Harbour.

Speaking at a celebratory event attended by over 100 partners, AccorHotels regional director of sales & marketing NSW/ACT, Megan Fleming said when the property initially opened, it and the Darling Harbour precinct, were deemed a 'white elephant'.

Fast-track a quarter of a century, AccorHotels' footprint spans four hotels in the immediate vicinity (two Novotel & two ibis branded properties) & 200-plus nationally. "As part of the Accor vision, we are very pleased to say that Darling Harbour's potential as a prime tourism asset is still making headlines today and a great success," Fleming remarked.

The addition of the 35-storey Sofitel Darling Harbour, slated to open in Nov next year, will further cement AccorHotels' presence in the zone, bulking up the French hotel company's room inventory by a further 600 keys.

APT wine cruise series

LUXURY cruise & tour operator APT has unveiled its 2017 Wine Series European River Cruise journeys, led by one of four Wine Ambassadors.

The ambassadors represent wineries from Australia's First Family of Wines - a collective of 12 of the nation's leading multi-generational winemakers.

Each of the guests will bring with them a personal selection of their own wines to provide tasting sessions & special paired dinners on the APT voyages.

Ambassadors include Scott McWilliam of McWilliams; Peter Barry from Jim Barry Wines and Bruce Tyrrell of Tyrrell's Wines.

To view prices and dates, go to aptouring.com.au/wineseries.

QR Meridiana stake

PRIVATELY-OWNED airline Meridiana, the second largest carrier in Italy, is now co-owned by Qatar Airways.

Doha-based Qatar Airways confirmed yesterday it had signed a contribution and shareholders agreement with the parent firm of Meridiana, Alisarda.

The deal with IG follows the signing of a Memorandum of Understandings months ago (TD 08 Feb), and will see QR purchase a 49% stake in Meridiana's shares by early Oct.

IG offers an extensive domestic and European network, operating a fleet of Boeing 737s, 767s and McDonnell Douglas MD-82s.

Today's Technology Update is brought to you by Tramada Systems Pty. Ltd.

Customer Fraud - be alert, be secure

Verifying suspicious scenarios is the best action to avoid fraud, but, no matter how vigilant your consultants are, some bookings may pass through that warrant investigation.

Be alert

Some suspicious activity can be identified through customer reporting or Business Intelligence using alerts and management dashboards. If you have a BI solution, consider creating a management dashboard with some of the alerts below:

- Last-minute bookings in leisure
- Client has no local address
- Flights originate outside of or don't include Australia
- The passenger is not the credit cardholder, especially if the booking is of high value
- A single credit card has been used to pay for several routings, travel dates, and passenger last names
- Booking is made up of several different credit card payments
- Client uses a religious/medical title e.g. "Doctor Smith"

Be Secure

If you are a Tramada client pay attention to the Credit Card Report and consider using the tramada® Payment Gateway to process credit cards payments online within the secure PCI DSS compliant tramada® environment. Our Payment Gateway partner, Mint Payments, solutions are audited and certified to bank, PCI and Schemes (Visa, MasterCard, Amex and Diners) standards and international payment regulation levels. Mint also offers an integrated anti-fraud solution as an additional service for customers selling online. This especially relevant for OTA's.
