VA adds PER-AUH, MEL-LAX

VIRGIN Australia will deploy its A330-200 aircraft on a long-haul international route for the first time next year with the launch of non-stop flights between Perth and Abu Dhabi effective from 09 Jun 2017 (TD breaking news).

The network rejig will also see VA suspend operations on the Sydney-Abu Dhabi route, where it currently operates Boeing 777s three times per week.

From 04 Apr the 777 aircraft will be redeployed to a new route between Melbourne and Los Angeles, seeing VA once again offer trans-Pacific services from all three key east coast capitals.

VA ceo John Borghetti said the move would see VA soon offer 25 services each week between Australia and Los Angeles in partnership with Delta Air Lines.

"We remain the only trans-Pacific alliance to offer Business class guests lie flat beds with direct aisle access on all services."

The new Perth-Abu Dhabi route will complement Etihad's daily flights to the WA capital, boosting frequencies to ten weekly.

And while VA will no longer fly from Sydney to the UAE capital, alliance partner Etihad will fill the breach by adding three extra weekly SYD-AUH flights making its Sydney operation double daily.

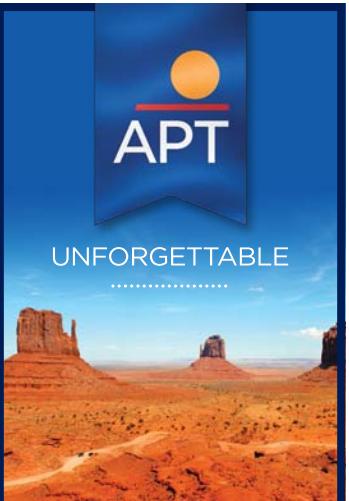

EY's new Sydney services will operate on the same timings as VA's current schedule, also utilising Boeing 777-300ERs.

Etihad ceo Peter Baumgartner said "Australia is a critical part of our network and we will continue to add capacity in order to meet the growing two-way demand".

Insight new itineraries & fly free

INSIGHT Vacations has unveiled two new brochures this week: Europe 2017 and Luxury Gold Worldwide.

The touring company has also launched a series of specials including an inaugural fly free offer in conjunction with Etihad Airways, Qatar Airways or Cathay Pacific when booking a 2017 Europe or Britain tour of 16 days or more.

While speaking with Travel Daily during his annual visit to Australia, Insight's ceo John Boulding pinpointed Scandinavia and Iceland as the biggest travel trends for next year.

The destinations are in such high demand that two of company's three new itineraries are set in Scandinavia.

This includes the 12-day Country Roads of Southern Scandinavia tour priced from $4,225pp twin share and the longer 29-day Scandinavian Heritage departures from $6,750pp.

The third itinerary takes in Warsaw and the Baltic states & is priced from $2,195pp.

Boulding said bookings were already strong with tour prices flat or dropping for 2017.

"The Britain or Ireland Explorer is about $700 cheaper than last year per person," he said.

"Travel agents can have a rather

MAGIC
isn't imaginary

It's just very well planned

good year I suspect".

Meanwhile, nine new countries have been added to the Luxury Gold program including new trips to Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and the Galapagos islands.

A voluntourism element has also been introduced for the first time.

Window seat

YOU can't say this Chinese couple didn't do their damn best to try to catch their flight.

The pair, who arrived at their gate at Beijing International Airport after it had closed, decided to force their way onto the runway with their luggage while the plane was taxiing.

They even attempted to block the runway (the lady is pictured squatting under the jet below), delaying the flight for 20mins.

Eventually the duo were nabbed and detained for five days.

Yosemite rebrand

THE American black bear has become the visual identity for California's Yosemite Mariposa County Tourism Bureau.

The black bear - a native of the region - represents "tranquillity, strength, curiosity and adventure; all qualities that pertain to Yosemite and Mariposa County," the organisation said.

A silhouette of Yosemite's iconic Half Dome is also incorporated into the new logo which will feature in future promotional activity in print & digital formats, domestically and internationally.

Sno'n'Ski showcase NZ slopes

SNO'N'SKI treated nine agents on a recent four-day famil across the ditch to explore the ski hubs of Methven and Mt Hutt.

Their adventure included a stop at Rakaia Gorge where they leapt onto the Discovery Jet and were whipped along the braided river beneath the Southern Alps.

Transported to the base building of Mt Hutt by the Ski Bus, the shuttle enabled the group to be on the slopes in no time, which had received a fresh dump of snow the week prior.

With a mix of first timers, novices and intermediates among them, the famil participants were able to experience the mountain's range of options over a few days

The journey ended with a visit to the nearby city of Christchurch where the agents explored the earthquake devastated city.

NSW regional funds

EXPRESSIONS of Interest (EOI) have opened for grants for regional NSW event organisers under the state government's 2017 Flagship Event Fund.

The fund will provide either a one-off annual grant of $20,000 or triennial grant of $27,500 each year for three years to already established events.

"Regional events are critical to attracting more visitors to experiences and destinations in rural and regional areas across NSW," said NSW Minister for Trade, Tourism and Major Events Stuart Ayres.

"We encourage event operators to take advantage of this vital funding opportunity."

EOIs are open until 09 Oct - see www.destinationnsw.com.au/rfep

Overnight in the Opera House?

THE Sydney Opera House has put forward plans to the govt to offer temporary "experiential accommodation" on site.

According to the Environmental Impact Statement lodged with the NSW Govt, the initiative would see the temporary conversion of rooms within the landmark attraction, currently occupied by offices or foyers.

Six potential areas have been designated to be used as accom for two different types of experiential events.

Event A proposes up to two nights accom for a maximum of five guests, offered five times annually in locations such as the Board Room and Utzon Room.

Activity on Day 1 would include cocktails & dinner at Bennelong until 8pm, view a show in the Concert Hall until 10pm, meet the artist post event & then retire for the night on a hotel-style queen bed mattress at 11pm.

On day 2, guests would shower in the SOH dressing room, have breakfast with a VIP guest in the boardroom and perform their own piece on the stage at 10am, before the experience concludes at 11am.

Event B proposes up to 100 guests spending one or two nights at the Opera House on a single occasion each year.

Guests would stay in larger areas such as the Concert Hall or Joan Sutherland Theatre foyers, sleeping in 'cots' (pictured).

The projects are considered to be in the public interest and will "generate interest from local, national and international communities within an established tourist destination".

Public comments are now being sought on the proposal.

Olympic stars make waves

OLYMPIC swimming stars, siblings Cate and Bronte Campbell made a splash recently, taking time out from their rigorous training schedule on board P&O Cruises' Pacific Dawn.

The three-night food and wine themed sailing was the duo's first ever cruise.

On board, the pair spoke about healthy eating in their role as Uncle Tobys' ambassadors, drawing strong crowds to their special Q&A session.

The girls also hosted a special Uncle Tobys' breakfast with the other passengers and took part in educational healthy breakfast presentations.

Cathay Pacific Airways is looking for a Cargo Services Officer to join our Brisbane Cargo office, on a 12 month, part-time contract (22.5 hours/week), with the possibility of extension.

The purpose of this role is to provide superior customer service to Cathay Pacific's Queensland cargo agents to maximize revenue and minimize service failures. You will liaise with the Cargo Terminal Operator (CTO) to help maximise cargo uplift and limit impact to Cathay Pacific (CX) operation.

This role would be suitable for someone with Cargo or airline experience, however we encourage anyone with a passion and experience in customer service to apply. You must also have the right to live and work in Australia.

Please also note that this role will convert to full-time (37.5 hours/week) from approx November 2017. When applying for the role, applicants will need to take into consideration the requirement to move to full-time work.

The successful candidate must demonstrate the following:

- 2 - 4 years in customer service; previous airline experience will be considered favourably
- An interest in developing or pursuing a career in the cargo or freight industry
- Has a professional and courteous manner at all times
- Is a quick learner, who shows initiative, enthusiasm and creativity
- Illustrates an ability to anticipate customer's needs and make decisions
- Is an effective communicator, both written and verbal
- Demonstrates a high standard of personal presentation and grooming
- Excellent computer skills, including report generation

If you have the above skills and experience, please submit your application via our website, here.

Applications close Sun, 25 Sept. Applicants must have the right to live and work in Australia to be considered.

An assessment centre for short listed candidates will take place on Wed, 5 Oct.

Money

WELCOME to Money, TD's Tue feature on what the Australian dollar is doing.

$1AUD = US$0.751

THE AUD started the new week stronger as markets looked ahead to the US Federal Reserve meeting early Thu morning.

An improvement in oil prices, on hopes of an OPEC deal, also helped the AUD.

The AUD/USD was up 0.6% overnight with the Aussie dollar one of the strongest currencies, performing solidly overall.

It was also higher against most currencies with the best gains versus the euro & Swiss franc.

The Aussie also jumped versus the NZD, as the local currency continued to rally from its 16-month lows.

Wholesale rates this morning.

US	$0.751
UK	£0.576
NZ	$1.025
Euro	€0.672
Japan	¥76.52
Thailand	฿26.05
China	¥4.630
South Africa	R10.479
Canada	$0.988
Crude oil	US$43.91

JetBlue renewable

JETBLUE has confirmed a 10-year renewable jet fuel purchase agreement with bio energy company SG Preston.

The fuel is made from rapidly renewable, bio-based feedstocks, marking the largest, long-term commitment by any airline globally for renewable jet fuel.

"The future of aviation relies in part on renewable energy sources," the carrier's ceo Robin Hayes said.

"This is just one step of many in our work towards a lower carbon future," he continued.

Initially the fuel will be made up of 30% renewable jet fuel blended with 70% traditional Jet-A fuel.

Travel Counsellors trivia crown

TRAVEL Counsellors and head office staff showed they are at the top of their game by scoring first place at the Etihad Trivia night.

well as Dean Hickford and Sam Puccio from head office.

While the competition was fierce, the Travel Counsellors team prevailed overall, winning a bottle of champagne each, which they said, shows that when it comes to knowledge about the world, Travel Counsellors really are unbeatable.
