Qld seals MoU with Ctrip

TOURISM and Events Queensland (TEQ) has signed a new agreement with Chinese travel giant Ctrip, with the deal set to see the state promoted as the "perfect next holiday destination" to over 300 million consumers across China.

China is currently Queensland's top international source market, last year welcoming over 500,000 Chinese visitors who spent more than $1.3 billion.

TEQ CEO Leanne Coddington said the new memorandum of understanding would allow the organisation to deliver marketing campaigns more strategically, including targeted airline and event-driven promotions.

"This places Queensland in a position of influence, with Ctrip giving priority to Queensland content on their platform, which will help drive additional outcomes in terms of visitor numbers and overseas visitor expenditure," Coddington said.

The pact will also see close cooperation with Ctrip to develop custom-made itineraries and host Queensland content on its site.

Jenna Qian, CEO of Ctrip's Destination Marketing division, said years of cooperation with TEQ had already seen a big improvement in the popularity and influence of Queensland in China's tourism market.

"Ctrip provides significant advantages in the form of our big data and big platform... through integrated and precision marketing we will help Queensland further enhance its brand influence," she said.

Airlines to weigh carry-on

THE Australian domestic aviation sector is cracking down on overweight carry-on, with Qantas, Virgin Australia and CASA participating in a combined push which may see bags weighed either at check-in or boarding.

Changes will be implemented starting today, and from next week there will be additional resources in terminals, supported by CASA, to assist with the refocus on cabin baggage.

$500m visa issue

DELAYS in approving tourist visas for Indian travellers are costing Australia's tourism industry up to $500 million a year, the Australian Tourism Export Council (ATEC) has calculated.

The peak inbound tourism body says the time taken to clear a tourist visa for an Indian traveller has grown from 14 days in 2015 to more than five weeks today, inhibiting Australia's fastest growing inbound market.

"We're losing opportunities... tourist dollars are going out the door," ATEC Managing Director Peter Shelley told the Australian Financial Review.

"Over the last 12 months this issue has gotten out of control."

ATEC found its members were losing 40% of their Indian business because of delays.

It has raised the matter with the Department of Home Affairs.

huge issue with overweight and oversize cabin baggage, causing injuries to crew and also impacting on time performance.

Virgin Australia allows economy pax 7kg of carry-on - along with a laptop bag, handbag or suit bag in addition to the 7kg limit.

Bags over the allowance will be checked in and carried in the cargo hold, according to VA General Manager Ground Operations, Paul Woosnam.

Qantas also offers a 7kg limit and has ramped up "auditing" of carry-on items at boarding gates to ensure the system is fair to all passengers.

A QF spokesperson said the push was a response to feedback from regular flyers saying all customers need to be reminded about how much luggage they can take on board.

ACCC online report

Air demand rises

DEMAND for air travel has resumed healthy growth rates as the industry heads towards the festive season peak, with IATA figures for Oct showing 6.3% year-on-year growth.

The increase, measured in revenue passenger kilometres, marked a rebound from the 5.5% growth shown in the previous month, the lowest rate recorded for eight months.

"Oct's healthy performance is reassuring after the slower demand growth in Sep - some of which was attributable to weather-related disruptions," said Alexandre de Juniac, IATA's Director General and CEO.

"However, the bigger picture is that traffic growth has moderated compared to earlier in the year, reflecting a more mixed economic backdrop and reduced demand stimulation from lower fares," de Juniac said.

Oct capacity grew 6.3% while load factor was steady at 81.1%.
