

Where in the world?

FIRST designed as an apartment block in 1882, this stunning Edwardian-style building caught fire in 1904 and after a refurbishment was converted into a hotel in 1908.

Today, although the name and operator are different from that in 1908, it is still run as a hotel.

Over the years the hotel has been frequented by guests including royalty and several silent film stars.

Although renovated over the years, the interiors of the hotel still hark back to past eras, with many of the suites influenced by Art Deco design.

Do you know where in the world this hotel is?
