Qantas profit taking off

QANTAS ceo Alan Joyce this morning hailed the hard work of the carrier's staff which is "delivering the cost and revenue-focused initiatives needed to strengthen our business".

QF is forecasting its best first half result since 2010, with expectations of an Underlying Profit Before Tax in the range of $300m-$350m for the six months to 31 Dec (TD breaking news).

Joyce said that with a more stable operating environment, the carrier's ongoing transformation initiatives were flowing directly to the bottom line.

The forecast result is more than $550m better than for the same period last year, and the efforts have been achieved "without compromising the premium service that matters to our customers," he added.

Low fuel prices are also expected to see a $30m benefit for the carrier over the period.

VA Tasman Business

VIRGIN Australia has today opened sale of Business class seats on Tasman and Pacific Island routes, with the Sydney to Auckland route being the first to debut the new premium offering, for flights effective 28 Feb 2015.

All other VA Tasman and Pacific services will offer Business class from 31 Mar 2015, meaning the carrier offers a consistent product across its international markets incl priority check-in & boarding.

Spain Ebola-free

DFAT has reissued its travel advice for Spain, reflecting a World Health Organization declaration that the outbreak of Ebola virus disease in Spain has now ended.

The overall advice for Spain is at the lowest “exercise normal safety precautions” level.

AirAsia X drops Adelaide

MALAYSIAN low-cost long haul carrier AirAsia X has announced a “realignment” of its network, which will see the withdrawal of services between Adelaide and Kuala Lumpur next month.

The route was announced with fanfare last year (TD 29 Jul 13) and is being cancelled after just 15 months of operation.

“In the last few weeks we’ve conducted intensive analysis of the route and considered a range of factors for travel to Adelaide and from South Australia into Asia in an effort to keep it going,” said AirAsia commercial manager Australia/NZ Stuart Myerscough.

“Unfortunately [we] have had to make this difficult decision to cut the route and begin informing passengers,” he said.

The Kuala Lumpur-Adelaide route has not been profitable, and “in light of difficult trading conditions for us in Australia we’ve had to make this decision”.

Despite efforts to build route awareness, external factors such as the depreciation of Asian currencies against the US dollar also contributed to the decision.

Affected passengers are being progressively contacted by email and SMS, will be given the option of cancelling their reservation and opt for a refund, or change their booking to depart from Melbourne with no change fee.

The final flight will depart Adelaide on 25 Jan.

AirAsia continues to serve other Australian destinations including Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, the Gold Coast and Darwin.

MH in German hands

AER Lingus turnaround architect Christoph Mueller has been named as the new ceo of Malaysia Airlines.

Wyndham Melbourne launch

WYNDHAM Hotel Group has officially marked its entry into the Victorian capital in grand style, opening a behemoth 531 apartment property on the corner of William Street and Little Bourke Street.

Launched last Fri as the group's 15th property in the South Pacific region, Wyndham Hotel Melbourne is spread across two towers (23 and 21 storeys) and comprises hotel accommodation, vacation ownership, residential units and a retail precinct.

Of the apartments, 86 will be available to Wyndham Hotel Group guests and vacation owners.

President and md Wyndham Vacation Resorts Asia Pacific and Wyndham Hotel Group South

East Asia and Pacific Rim Barry Robinson said the Melbourne project marked an exciting first for both companies.

"We are very happy to enter the Melbourne market with this exceptionally designed, flagship property that will appeal to both business travellers and holidaymakers," Robinson said.

Other properties in the region are marketed under Wyndham, Ramada and TRYP by Wyndham.

Robinson is pictured at a ribbon cutting ceremony for Wyndham Hotel Melbourne with Min Wang from the property's developer Henghi Australia.

TNZ promotion

LAST Fri, Tourism New Zealand announced the appointment of Steven Dixon to the position of regional manager, south and southeast Asia.

Dixon was most recently TNZ's business events manager for North America based in Los Angeles, and will relocate to his new base in Singapore.

From his new outpost, Dixon will lead Tourism New Zealand's activities in India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore and Thailand.

Fill in replacement for the role since Jul, Nick Mudge, will return to the position of regional mgr of Japan and Korea, based in Tokyo.

AIRSERVICES Australia and Air Mauritius have vowed support for negotiation talks between the Board of Airline Representatives of Australia and suppliers for the re-authorisation of its application for an additional seven years.

Air China CTU/CMB

NEW four weekly services between Chengdu and Colombo are set to be introduced by Air China from early next year.

The route is Air China's fourth international hub from Chengdu, joining Kathmandu, Mumbai and Bangalore.

GMTC ANZAC tours

GREECE and Mediterranean Travel Centre has released four new cruise and land packages for the Anzac Centenary after selling out its existing arrangements.

The new capacity is available on the 12-day Centennial Wonders and Centennial Gems departing on 14 Apr & 18 Apr respectively, priced from $3,138ppts.

Alternatively, the 13-day Centennial Jewels and Centennial Diamonds itineraries will operate on 13 Apr & 18 Apr, priced from $3,336ppts.

All tours will operate roundtrip from Istanbul and include a cruise aboard Celestyal Cristal.

Addis Ababa threat

THE Dept of Foreign Affairs & Trade yesterday issued a renewed update on Ethiopia, continuing to advise Australian travellers to reconsider their need to travel to the African country.

The update comes as the US Embassy in Ethiopia issued an advisory to US citizens warning of possible terrorist attacks in Jijiga, Dolo Odo and Addis Ababa.

W Amsterdam grows

STARWOOD Hotels & Resorts has revealed it will add an extra 66 rooms to the yet-to-launch W Amsterdam - the first W branded property for the Netherlands.

The additional rooms - a mix of guestrooms and suites - will be developed as a second structure in an adjacent bank building.

When it launches next year, the bulked up W Amsterdam will feature a total of 238 rooms.

Brochures of the Week

WELCOME to Brochures of the Week, Travel Daily's Monday feature. If your firm is releasing a new brochure you'd like to make the industry aware of, send a brief description summarising its features and itineraries, including a PDF of the front cover, and contact details to brochures@traveldaily.com.au.

Qantas Holidays - Arabian Peninsula 2015-16
Striking new cover imagery has been rolled out on the new range of Qantas Holidays brochures for the 2015-16 season. A fresh new layout also features, along with a wide selection of product included for the first time. Hotel options have been expanded, with authentic Arabian experiences including a tented desert safari. New sightseeing options include both city highlights, coastal adventures and days in the desert. Opulent luxury resort options are also available for those seeking extravagance.

Contiki - Asia Small Group Adventures 2015/16
Japan is the newest destination to join the Contiki global network, taking its Asian range to eight tours, seven nations and three different ways to see them. The Land of the Rising Sun can be seen on a 13-day itinerary beginning in Tokyo and taking in Takayama, Hiroshima, Kyoto, Osaka and more, with plenty of included experiences such as a sushi making class, karaoke and a stay in a traditional Ryokan. Other tours take in Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, China and Hong Kong.

FEZ Travel - Turkey 2015
Spearheaded by a range of Anzac Centenary itineraries taking in a plethora of significant battlefields, sights and experiences, the 2015 Turkey range from FEZ Travel is its largest yet. A highlighted itinerary is the 12-day 'Anzac the Colonel' which takes guests to many battlefields, includes a day trip to Troy and a visit to Cappadocia, where guests can purchase an optional hot-air balloon ride over the city. A commemoration ceremony for the Anzac landing will also take place during the tour.

Infinity Holidays - East Coast USA 2015/16
Closely following the West Coast USA brochure last week, the East Coast guide also includes states in the US Southeast and a number of Caribbean extensions. Stopover packages in Hawaii, Los Angeles and Dallas to help travellers break up the journey also feature in this guide. Lots of new product has been added for Southern Florida, in areas such as Palm Beach, Key West and Fort Lauderdale. New hotels have also been added in New Orleans, New York, Texas & the Walt Disney World Resort.

Nexus Holidays - China and Asia 2015/16
Fully inclusive guided touring through Nexus Holidays offers a selection of exciting countries. New tours include 'The Legend of Shangri-La' which takes pax to the southern Chinese province of Yunnan, while more departures of the 11-day 'Golden Route Japan' have also been scheduled. The season contains a good mix of both short and long departures, all guaranteed to depart and inclusive of return air with Cathay Pacific.

Singapore Airlines Holidays - Maldives 2015/16
More than 30 properties designed for romantic escapes, family holidays, luxury and relaxation feature in the new Singapore Airlines Holidays guide. Packaged itineraries are sold inclusive of SQ airfares, with convenient flight connections to Male from SIN. The brochure looks to point out aspects of the destination for which it is not normally known, such as surfing and diving. Industry demand has warranted an extension of old five-night packages to seven nights, with meal packages and stopover options.

AVANI into Thailand

MINOR Hotel Group has opened its first AVANI branded property in Thailand, with the AVANI Atrium Bangkok offering 568 rooms across 23 storeys.

WMDL shows off its own islands

PRODUCT managers and travel agents from the North and South Island of New Zealand headed to the Whitsunday Islands recently to enjoy a two-day familiarisation.

The group was hosted to the trip by Whitsundays Marketing & Development Limited, which has identified New Zealand as a key opportunity for visitor growth.

"Trade partners in New Zealand are very excited that the Whitsundays is back in market and we are committed to driving awareness and growing our share of the New Zealand market," WMDL executive director Jeff Aquilina stated.

Go Holidays representative Karen McMahon said the timing of the famil was apt, with the company showcasing an increased

Spirit of Tas refurb

THE Tasmanian Government has confirmed it will inject tens of millions of dollars into the refurb of TT-Line's Spirit of Tasmania ferries by late next year.

In an effort to boost visitors to the Apple Isle, fares on the ferry services will be trimmed by about 15% over the next four years, ABC News Online reported.

Tasmania hopes the exercise will lure a further 64,000 passengers to the ferries, ploughing some $220 million into the state's economy a year by 2023.

The refurbishment of the 16 year old vessels will include new seating, upgrades in cabins and wi-fi & internet streaming access.

TT-Line chairman Mike Grainger admitted the overhaul of the ships was long overdue, adding "we look forward to what the future brings".

range of property and attraction options in the Whitsundays in its newest 2015/16 brochure.

Credit card fees set for reform

A REVIEW of the Australian financial services sector has recommended major cuts to credit card surcharges, including regulating the maximum amount that can be passed on.

The Murray Report, released yesterday, suggests that surcharges could be completely eliminated on debit cards, while lower cost credit cards such as Visa and Mastercard would have "surcharge limits" applied.

For higher cost providers like American Express and PayPal, surcharges would be limited by "reasonable cost-recovery rules".

Consumer group CHOICE issued an updated report on credit card surcharging on Fri, saying that airlines are some of the "worst culprits" with fees marked up as much as 2312% per pax per sector.

Hertz 24/7 upgrade

HERTZ is allowing users of its 24/7 car-sharing system to use their mobile phones to unlock a new range of vehicles including BMWs and Volkswagens.

The free Hertz 24/7 app removes the need for membership cards or keyfobs, allowing users to make bookings and access the cars via a pinpad on a fully inclusive hourly or daily basis.

MK to Chengdu

AIR Mauritius will operate a seasonal nonstop service between Mauritius and Chengdu in China, with the A340 flights to operate 03 Feb-06 Mar 2015.

Britannia sea trials

P&O Cruises yesterday began the first sea trials for its brand new Britannia cruise ship.

The 3,647-pax vessel is expected to enter service in Mar next year.

All smiles after morning coffee

PLEASANT aromas from freshly ground and brewed coffee was a daily necessity for this group of Aussie agents exploring India during a recent educational.

On this occasion, the group was visiting the French Colonial town of Pondicherry on the eastern coast of the subcontinent.

Flying into Chennai and out of Cochin, the group was hosted by Melbourne-based Indian wholesaler and small group tour firm India Unbound, staying at CGH Hotels properties throughout the adventure.

Travelling from Tamil Nadu down to Kerala, the group took part in walking tours of a number of townships, learning all about the region's French history.

Other highlights included exploring restored mansions and temples, wandering local markets, visiting wildlife sanctuaries and a relaxing day on a houseboat.

Grylls UAE academy

MAN vs Wild host Bear Grylls has established a new survival academy in the UAE, destined to be a huge hit for tourists to the region wanting to learn from the former Special Forces soldier.

Famous for his questionable survival techniques such as seeking shelter in the carcass of a camel and drinking his own urine, the Bear Grylls Survival Academy courses will be conducted from a base in Dibba in the Musandam Peninsula, two hours from Dubai.

The 24-hr adult course is priced at $551 and teaches participants how to build and light a fire, purify water and deal with snakes and scorpions.

After a night in the desert, course guests will "climb, abseil, crawl, scramble and run back to civilisation" - more details HERE.

3K preparing for CNY

NINETY extra flights will be operated by Jetstar Asia over the peak Chinese New Year (CNY) period in 2015, the carrier said.

In addition to normal operations from Singapore, 3K will add 46 services to KUL, 34 extra flights to PEN and a total of 10 extra flights to Hong Kong, Shantou & Haikou.

CNY takes place 19-20 Feb 2015.
