Scenic Eclipse out

SCENIC has unveiled its hotly anticipated 2019/20 program for Scenic Eclipse and Scenic Eclipse II, with the addition of the Russian and Canadian Arctic, the Northwest Passage and the US East Coast.

The full brochure for the expanded fleet has debuted alongside a range of earlybird offers, including the option to book now and save up to 10% off the full fare.

Other limited-time offers include 50% off the single supplement on selected cruises, air credits of $4,000 per couple on Antarctica, South Georgia & Falklands Islands cruises, and additional discounts for travellers who book now and pay in full by 31 Oct 2018.

Scenic group gm of sales & marketing Asia/Pacific, Anthony Laver, said interest in Scenic Eclipse was strong following the announcement of a second ship earlier this year (TD 05 Feb) - see the cover page for more details.

Royal revamps deposits

ROYAL Caribbean International this morning unveiled its 2019/20 Australasian itineraries, along with a new "non-refundable deposit program" which allows cruisers to pay the best available fare if they have confirmed travel dates when making a booking.

The season will feature Radiance of the Seas, Ovation of the Seas and Voyager of the Seas which will be emerging fresh from a multi-million dollar makeover.

Ovation will offer a range of South Pacific, Australia and NZ itineraries including new sailings between Sydney and Hawaii as she travels to and from Alaska.

Bookings for the season open on 10 Apr, with Royal Caribbean also offering up to US$100 on-board credit for bookings made six months in advance.

As well as the new non-refundable deposits, the cruise line will continue to offer refundable deposit options to give holidaymakers the "ultimate in choice, flexibility and adventures," according to RCI md Australia/NZ, Adam Armstrong.

A new groups policy will also become active next week, reducing maximum allocations to 50 cabins and advising that utilisation recalls at 300, 200 and 170 days prior to departure will now be policed.

Contiki chief gone

CASPER Urhammer is no longer the global ceo of The Travel Corporation's youth-focused Contiki brand, stepping down after just over three years in the role (TD 13 Nov 2014).

He's taken a role outside the travel industry after the arrival of twins prompted him to seek a position involving less travel.

"As we identify and recruit Contiki's next ceo it's business as usual," said a spokesperson for the company.

Bayne joins TRAVLR

$12.5m Flight Centre fine

FLIGHT Centre ceo Graham Turner says the company is considering whether there are grounds to appeal the $12.5 million fine imposed on the company today by the Full Federal Court (TD breaking news).

The fine is the latest twist in the long-running case which related to allegations FLT had colluded with Singapore Airlines, Emirates and Malaysia Airlines (TD 12 Mar 2012), attempting to fix prices by influencing the carriers not to undercut its fares when selling tickets direct to consumers.

Initially Flight Centre lost the case and was hit with an $11m penalty (TD 28 Mar 2014) - but this decision was unanimously reversed on appeal (TD 31 Jul 2015) and the company received a refund of the whopping fine.

However, the ACCC in turn appealed to the High Court which ruled against Flight Centre just over two years ago (TD 14 Dec 2016) leading to a Full Federal Court penalty hearing last May resulting in today's $12.5m fine.

Turner said FLT respected the court's ultimate decision, but also noted the firm was "not in the business of attempting to make airfares more expensive."

"As an agent that provides considerable free advice and help to the travelling public, and extensive marketing for airlines, FLT asks for appropriate commissions from suppliers and also reasonable access to all deals that they release to the market".

He said the penalty would be included in FLT's full year results.

Window Seat

SO IT turns out that airline food isn't the only thing likely to make you shed a tear or two on a plane - a sudden grip of aerial melancholy can also be driven by the in-flight movies.

A "No Tears in Heaven" study recently sought to verify the theory that people cry more when watching films in the air than on terra firma, concluding altitude had little do with the phenomena, rather it was the fact travellers chose to watch more dramas while flying than comedy and action films.

The 48-storey property is scheduled to open in 2020 adjacent to Dubai Marina and Media City.

Thai festival season

THE Tourism Authority of Thailand is promoting the nationwide Grand Songkran Celebrations as part of its marketing campaign, "Open to the New Shade".

Some festivities start as early as 07 Apr and run through to 20 Apr.

Celebrations will take place in Bangkok and 12 major tourist destinations around the Kingdom, including Samut Prakan, Sukhothai and Chiang Mai.

"LET the games begin" will be the cry today as the XXI Commonwealth Games kick off on the Gold Coast, Queensland. The Gold Coast 2018 Commonwealth Games (#GC2018) will bring together some 6,600 athletes from the 70 Commonwealth countries and run for 11 days to wrap up on 15 Apr. Hosting an international sporting event of this magnitude is of course a great achievement for Australia, the Gold Coast and the Australian Tourism industry as once again our country will be in the spotlight for the right reasons and no doubt good things will follow for the industry.

On the official side of things, Charles, Prince of Wales and Camilla, Duchess of Cornwall, arrived in Brisbane this morning to officially open the games this evening at the opening ceremony. Their Royal Highnesses will be in Queensland for six days and this is not the longest time royals have been on the ground in Queensland. In fact, the Queen and Prince Phillip were in Queensland for longer back in 1954. Fun fact as they say. Their Royal Highnesses will spend the day at official functions which will include a 21 gun salute, before a walk with the people (that would be us) through the Botanic Gardens allowing what is hoped to be face-to-face contact with the royals and those who turn out for the event. Let's hope the Queensland weather holds for the official snaps. In real terms this is a big deal as the future King and Queen of England (Australia et al... the Commonwealth) will be on show and visiting for all to see.

If the Commonwealth Games is not a big enough highlight, I am sure this visit will add to the excitement and attention that this event is going to get. The Queen has sent a message using the baton that has travelled all over the Commonwealth in the lead up to the Games and the Prince of Wales will have the honour of reading the Queen's message at the opening tonight. A lovely touch and let's hope that he gets that right as I am sure his mother will be on the couch back at the house in London watching how he goes.

On a more serious note, let's all hope that these games, the XXI Commonwealth Games, are extremely successful for Australia and all those countries who have joined along with all of the athletes who have put their hearts and souls into being the best they can be. But also that they are safe, secure, well run and that as the world watches us once again, we do what we do well – show people why Australia is such a wonderful country for a holiday.
