Kakadu set for upgrade

KAKADU Tourism has welcomed pledges of up to $220 million by the Liberal National Party and Labor Party to “rejuvenate Kakadu National Park’s ageing tourism infrastructure”.

The funding would go towards upgrading roads, accessibility, camping facilities, and establishing Jabiru as a tourism and hospitality centre.

“Our Cooida and Jabiru properties are fully Indigenous owned and have provided the lifeblood of Kakadu’s tourism industry for many decades, but there is no doubt that tourism infrastructure has really held back the industry from progressing since the pinnacle of the Crocodile Dundee days,” said Kakadu Tourism Chair Rick Allert.

Allert added that although “Jabiru’s Crocodile Hotel is renowned around the world”, the town requires “a re-invigoration of services and facilities along with a new vision to help rejuvenate the destination”.

The Kakadu National Park is set to celebrate the 40th anniversary of its declaration in Apr.

Emirates updates

EMIRATES has revealed further network changes for 2019 due to the closure of Dubai International Airport's southern runway in Apr and May (TD 12 Jul 2018).

Emirates will suspend flights EK 418/419 between Bangkok and Syd from 01 Jun, and return to serving Syd with three flights a day non-stop to Dubai.

From 31 Mar, Emirates will serve Perth with a once daily Airbus A380 service non-stop from Dubai.

The runway closure will result in up to 48 Emirates aircraft not being utilised, with a 25% reduction in the overall number of flights operated by the airline during the 45-day period.

Emirates will deploy additional flights to several markets in Africa starting in Jun and multiple destinations across Europe will be served by extra flights during peak travel season leading up to and lasting through the northern summer of 2019.

RwandAir appoints local GSA

AFRICAN airline RwandAir has announced the appointment of CVFR Travel Group offshoot Airline Rep Services as its General Sales Agent (GSA) in Australia.

The company has established a Sydney-based call centre to service the needs of local travel agents and customers, with Airline Rep Services MD Roheena Gidwani saying the agreement was "an amazing opportunity to partner with RwandAir and its growth story for the ANZ region".

RwandAir is based in the Rwandan capital Kigali, and offers long-haul services to destinations such as Dubai, Mumbai, Brussels, London and Johannesburg.

The carrier's CEO Yvonne Manzi Makolo said Airline Rep Services had been selected to handle RwandAir's sales and distribution in Australia and New Zealand "due to their standards and wealth of experience in air travel management.

"We are challenging them to capitalise on their strengths and capabilities to help maximise our sales and revenues, promote the airline's presence in both markets and connect our customers to over six destinations in Africa, Middle East, Europe and Asia."

RwandAir operates 12 aircraft including two A330s, with plans to further expand the airline's network to include Guangzhou, Tel Aviv and New York.

Other Airline Rep Services clients include Malindo Air, Batik Air and Jet Airways.

Trafalgar incentive

TRAFALGAR has announced that its annual "Acclaim" top achievers trip will visit Africa in 2019 - and for the first time it will be a global event with agents from all of the company's sales regions competing to take part.

Acclaim 2019 will be a 10-day trip taking in seven destinations, starting in Cape Town with highlights from the company's top-selling "Essence of South Africa" trip and plenty of VIP experiences along the way.

The destination is particularly special to Trafalgar global CEO Gavin Tollman, whose family hails from South Africa.

"It's one of those places that, when you leave it, you understand the very essence of the reason we travel," he said.

Trafalgar's 10% early payment discount expires on 31 Jan, with agents urged to lock in bookings by 15 Jun in order to be in the running for the trip.

Rex, Mildura heal divide

REGIONAL Express (Rex) has signed a new four-year deal with Mildura Airport to maintain services to Melbourne, Adelaide and Broken Hill after overcoming a stoush over increased airport taxes (TD 19 Jul 2018).

"We are pleased that relations with Mildura Airport have been repaired following the personal involvement of the Chairs of both the Mildura Airport and Rex Boards," said Rex General Manager Network Strategy & Sales Warrick Lodge.

Rex has also flagged its intentions to reconsider the re-introduction of the Mildura-Sydney route once the pilot shortage has eased.

"I look forward to continuing conversations with Rex that will again see direct flights to Sydney a reality," said Mildura Airport Chairman Peter O'Donnell.

Rex has also introduced a new Community Fare scheme between Mildura and Adelaide.

The cheaper $129 ticket price is available on 25% of total seats between the two destinations for advanced bookings of 30 days prior to departure.

The Community Fare will also be offered for all remaining seats within 24 hours prior to take off.

"The Community Fare Scheme has been a runaway success everywhere it has been introduced and we have seen up to 28% of all tickets sold on some routes in WA sold under the scheme," Lodge said.

"We are sure that the Mildura community will also reap the same benefits," he added.
